PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

We are a Catholic Christian community striving to live as disciples of Jesus Christ. Nourished by the Eucharist and enlightened by the Word of God, our Pastor, Parish Staff and Parishioners welcome all. With faith in His Gospel, we are called to love as Jesus loves and, therefore, serve our community through the sharing of time, talents and treasure to support programs of evangelization and social justice. Our commitment encompasses serving the youth through education, sports and formation. We seek to develop services for the elderly and homebound. Finally, we wish to challenge and sustain all parishioners through spiritual and educational activities.

A Note from Faith Formation

Family Faith Formation and Religious Education

Catholic Identity Committee Meeting

At our start of the year Parent and Family Meeting, we spoke about how excited we are for parents to get involved in the Faith Formation of their children, especially through our Family Programming events! These events are ones where the goal is to give all of you some beautiful memories with your children, while centering them around both fun and our Catholic Faith.

As we look at the next few months ahead, there are some events that are currently in the works for our youth and families where we would love to have parent involvement. Father Marc and I would like to take this time to invite any of our parents who have children enrolled in our Family Faith Formation who are interested to a meeting this Wednesday, October 23rd at 6:00pm in the Parish Hall to discuss our plans for the next few months, so that we can talk about how we can best get everyone involved. We are also inviting everyone to stay for our Holy Hour at 7:00pm, for anyone who would like to spend time with our Lord present in the Blessed Sacrament. We look forward to seeing you!

From the Music Director

Happy 150th Birthday, Charles Ives!

Born in 1874 in Danbury, CT, Charles' father had been the youngest bandmaster in the Union Army during the Civil War. Both his parents were Transcendentalists, and his father, who taught music theory, instilled in him an interest in experimenting musically. Charles loved singing hymns, and at 14 became the youngest salaried church organist in Connecticut. Though he studied music at Yale, he despaired of it as a career and went to work as an insurance actuary, composing on nights and weekends. In the early 1900s he moved to New York and established his own insurance agency. But by 1926 he felt his creativity was exhausted and gave up composing.

Though his music was largely ignored during his early career, later in life his music was publicly recognized through the efforts of organist and musician friends who liked how he incorporated American folk and hymn tunes into his works. Regarded as an "American original," he was one of the earliest American composers to achieve recognition on a global scale. If you're not familiar with his music, why not try listening to something by Charles Ives? Try his Variations on "America"; Three Places in New England; or A Symphony: New England Holidays! And let me know what you think!

Word of Life

“I would now like to say a special word to women who have had an abortion. The Church is aware of the many factors which may have influenced your decision, and she does not doubt that in many cases it was a painful and even shattering decision. The wound in your heart may not yet have healed...But do not give in to Discouragement and do not lose hope...The Father of mercies is ready to give you his forgiveness and his peace in the Sacrament of Reconciliation.”

A Reflection from Love and Serve

This Week's Readings | USCCB

Years ago, after more than three decades in the technology field, I lost my dream job of four years. While this was an undesired and unwelcome event, my outlook was primarily positive, as I thought it could lead to new and potentially more rewarding opportunities. It was a time when I thought I could be selective about what I would choose to do next. As months passed without me landing my ideal next job and staying home turned dreary, I became less discerning in my job search. My prayers intensified, too! I wondered why God was ignoring my prayers. Am I being punished for something?

It was a time when my and my wife's parents started exhibiting symptoms of a decline in cognitive functions and needed intervention. Over the following months and a few years, our families coordinated the parents' doctor visits, took over their personal and financial obligations, provided in-house care, moved them from their homes into assisted-living facilities, and eventually hospice care before their passing. Providing this care simultaneously to two sets of parents was time-consuming and made me postpone my job search. I realized that while I was planning and praying for something, God had a different plan for my life during that period. God sympathized with our parents' weaknesses and deterioration and, like a high wave cresting and propelling a surfer, He used their children to deliver His compassion and care.

In today's Gospel, brothers James and John, Jesus' disciples, said to Him, perhaps what everyone would love to say to God, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you." (Mark 10:35b). Perhaps what we desire is not always what is best, or even good. We do not have the knowledge or wisdom to trust what is desirable. We see things as if looking through a door peephole, limiting our vision and unseeing fully what is directly outside. "You do not know what you are asking," was Jesus' response. It's true; God always hears our prayers but doesn't always give us what we ask for.

In our Gospel Readings over the past few weeks, we saw a sharp contrast between human wisdom and God's wisdom as Jesus taught His disciples. James and John understood that Our Lord chose them and the other ten disciples to be leaders in His kingdom and to be in a position of authority. However, they failed to fully comprehend the nature of the calling to discipleship they were meant to embody. They were unaware that their role would not be one of earthly power or supremacy but of humble, servant leadership, following the example set by Christ Himself.

Jesus established His Kingdom, but seeking recognition, power, and honor is human nature. If we aspire to please God and live out our calling as disciples, we must put aside our desires and heed His call for true greatness through humility and service.

Go in Peace to Love and Serve the Lord.
